Government employees travelling for business ‘acting as a representative of a foreign government’ – Nil VAC

For Subclass 600 Visitor and Subclass 400 Temporary Work – Short Stay Activity visas, applicants are entitled for a ‘nil’ VAC if they are applying for a visa in the course of ‘acting as a representative of a foreign government’. In most cases, such persons will identify themselves at time of application by presenting a diplomatic, or official, passport. However, the ‘nil’ VAC applies equally to applicants presenting other types of travel documents provided officers are satisfied as to the applicant’s representative status. Applicants who wish to be considered for a Nil VAC should submit a letter from their government agency supporting the application and outlining the purpose for their visit to Australia.

Note – while the VAC is waived for government representatives, the applicants may still have to pay the AVAC service fee in LBP to submit their application and collect biometrics.
